Invasive Species Week June 9-15, 2014

To draw attention to the dangers of introducing or spreading invasive species in BC, the govt has officially declared June 9-15, 2014 Invasive Species Week across the province. Invasive species threaten BC's environment, economy & society, including human health. A new website has been set up invasivespeciesweek.com where you can find info about how to prevent & stop the spread of invasive species in gardens, parks & forests, lakes, rivers & oceans, cities, towns & across the province. One of 34 species on the list, knapweed is a major concern in the Omineca, Peace River, Kootenay, Okanagan, Thompson/Cariboo regions.

Spotted knapweed

Friday the Thirteenth

The thirteenth day of any month that happens to fall on a Friday is considered to be an "unlucky day" in western superstition (one on which misfortune is likely, and on which new endeavours should not be started).

Friday the 13th's historical association with bad luck is unconfirmed, though there are claims that its origins can be traced back to biblical times. The belief that the 13th guest to attend the Last Supper was thought to be the same person who betrayed Jesus prior to his death; and his death is said to have occurred on a Friday.

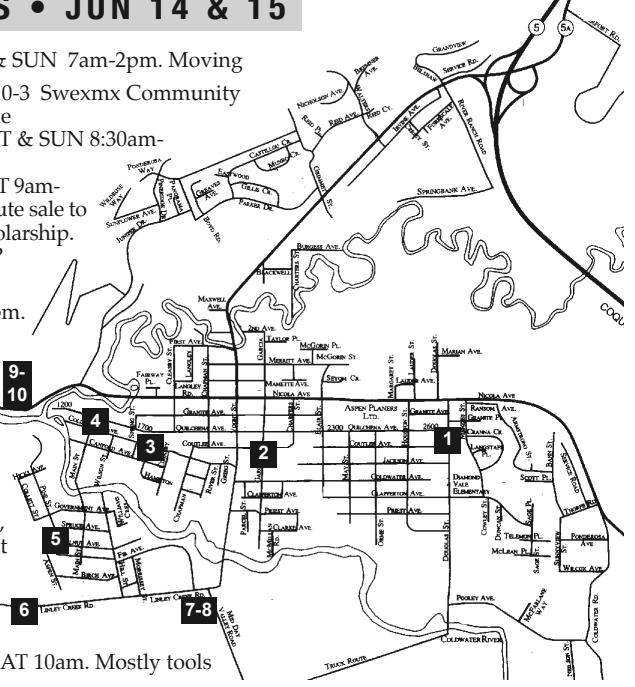

The fear of Friday the 13th has been called friggatriskadekaphobia (Frigga being the name of the Norse goddess for whom "Friday" is named in English and triskadekaphobia meaning fear of the number thirteen), or paraskevidekatriaphobia a concatenation of the Greek words Paraskevi (meaning "Friday"), and dekatreis (meaning "thirteen") attached to phobia (from phobos, meaning "fear"). The latter word was derived in 1911 and first appeared in a mainstream source in 1953.

According to phobia specialists, it's the most widespread superstition in the United States today. It's been estimated that $800 or $900 million [US] is lost in business on this day because people will not fly or do business they normally would do.

No Insurance A man was brought to Mercy Hospital, and he went in for coronary surgery. The operation went well. As the groggy man regained consciousness, he was reassured by a Sister of Mercy waiting by his bed. "Mr. Smith, you're going to be just fine," the nun said while patting his hand. "We do have to know, however, how you intend to pay for your stay here. Are you covered by insurance?" "No, I'm not," the man whispered hoarsely. "Can you pay in cash?" "I'm afraid I can't, Sister." "Do you have any close relatives, then?" "Just my sister in New Mexico," replied, "but she's a spinster nun." "Nuns are not spinsters, Mr. Smith," the nun replied. "They are married to God." "Okay," the man said with a smile, "then send the bill to my brother-in-law."
