Tolko to close Merritt mill in mid-December

Tolko Industries announced to their Nicola Valley staff today that it will permanently close its Merritt operation on December 16, 2016. 203 people are currently employed at the Tolko mill, and that does not include contractors.

President and CEO Brad Thorlakson said: “Following the recent reduction in the Annual Allowable Cut as a result of the completion of the Mountain Pine Beetle harvest, an extensive review of the wood supply for all of our Southern Interior operations was conducted. Based on this review, we have determined there is not enough timber to supply all of our mills. This has resulted in the decision to permanently close our Nicola operation.”

115 employees were laid off last November, in anticipation of the reduced AAC. “Today we have issued notice to employees, and we are working through the details of a transition package,” he said. “We anticipate full details to be available to employees the week of October 10,” said Mike Harkies, Executive Vice President of Solid Wood.

Ripple effect The closure will have a huge effect on Merritt & the Nicola Valley’s economy — the likes of Weyerhaeuser closing in February 1999, but with 1 less mill to absorb the displaced workers. And the closure begs the question: what will happen to the ‘green energy’ plant, since Tolko was to supply the bulk of its wood fibre for the first 20 years... —KL

Revenue-sharing for LNIB

The Lower Nicola Indian Band is the final Nlaka’pamux band to sign a revenue agreement for Highland Valley Copper Operations.

Under a revenue-sharing agreement with the Province, LNIB will receive a share of the mineral tax on the mine, including an initial payment of $557,000 and annual payments based on mineral tax received by the Province.

Through a separate agreement between Lower Nicola Indian Band and Teck, the band will work with the company to develop employment and business opportunities and environmental and cultural heritage planning.

The mine is projected to continue production until at least 2026.

In total, 15 Nlaka’pamux bands are benefitting from revenue-sharing agreements related to the copper mine. To date, BC has signed 24 mining-related revenue sharing agreements with 40 First Nations.

Grilled fruit

3 firm but ripe nectarines, halved, pitted
3 firm but ripe plums, halved, pitted
3 firm but ripe red plums, halved, pitted (or apricots or peaches)
6 skewers (for thick wooden skewers, soak in water 30 minutes)
3 Tbsp sugar • Nonstick spray
Spray the grill rack & heat barbecue to medium-high. Thread 1 piece of each fruit on each of 6 skewers so that the cut sides line up & lay flat. Sprinkle the sugar over the cut sides of the fruit. Let stand until the sugar dissolves, about 10 min. Place the fruit skewers on the grill cut side down. Grill the fruit until it is heated through & caramelized, about 5 mins. Transfer 1 fruit skewer to each plate and serve.

What's a pirates favorite letter? Ya think it be "r" but his only love's the "c."
What did 0 say to 8? Nice belt! What did 9 say to 6? Okay stop now, your face is getting all red!

THE GLOBAL GOALS For Sustainable Development

#GLOBALGOALSWEEK

SEPTEMBER 18 - 24, 2016

In September 2015, 193 world leaders agreed to 17 Global Goals for Sustainable Development. If these Goals are completed, it would mean an end to extreme poverty, inequality and climate change by 2030.

Our governments have a plan to save our planet... it's our job to make sure they stick to it.

The Global Goals are only going to work if we fight for them and you can't fight for your rights if you don't know what they are. We believe the Goals are only going to be completed if we can make them famous.

The 18th – 25th September 2016 is #GlobalGoals week – a week where our world leaders have the chance to start making these Goals a reality.

Join us this week to make as much noise about the Global Goals as possible, to tell our world leaders to stick to their promises and to get the job done.

The Global Goals have the potential to end poverty, inequality and climate change, but they're only going to be completed if we raise our voices.

On #GlobalGoals week we want to make as much noise about the Global Goals as possible in order to remind our world leaders to stick to their promises and all we need you to do is SHARE!

You can't fight for your rights if you don't know what they are so we're on a mission to tell everyone that this is the plan to make our world a better place.
