City C.O.W. meeting to address parking

Downtown business people are hoping for a good turn-out of concerned citizens & business owners at tomorrow’s City Council Committee of the Whole meeting. Council will be looking for input regarding their newly-reinstated ‘pay in lieu of parking’ formula from the 2015 re-vamping of the zoning bylaw. Business owners contend that the cost is a hardship & parking isn’t really an issue, and real estate agents say many potential sales have been lost due to the bylaw.

Meeting is tomorrow Thurs., Nov 3, 6pm, Council Chambers at City Hall.

The history of the Arts Council Part I

Some say it was a happening, including pianist Bruce Vogt. Sitting down before a crowd of more than 150 people, he helped realize what had only been a dream for the 3 people who organized the event. And so it began. It was May 5, 1981, in the MSS gym, and Evelyn Armstrong, Jennifer Tilley (now Trudeau) and Wendy Wickwire had successfully organized their first concert for the community.

Although there was no concert hall or concert piano, and not even a tradition or network for organizing events such as this, three or four people managed to turn their dream into an ‘event’.

Not only was this event one of the seeds from which the Nicola Valley Community Arts Council grew, it also heralded the beginning of the Nicola Valley Grand Piano Fund.

The other seed was the Merritt Arts Council, active in the mid-1970s. In early 1982, the NVCAC was formed with a 7-member board: Evelyn Armstrong, Gary Fast, Heather Aubert, Deanna Gage, Helen Holmes, Jennifer Tilly & Fran White.

Gary Fast wrote for the paper at that time, “...the newly formed Community Arts Council is going to make a presentation to City Council asking for endorsement of their movement, their grand piano fund, and plans to build a theatre and a resource library. The Council also hopes to install an exhibit centre at the library, and can do so if it can manage to match a small grant from Victoria.”

It is wonderful to note that the City continues to support the NVCAC, as does the BC Arts Council. It is also spendid to see how many of the dreams of those early directors have come to fruition: the Concert Committee presented 3-7 performances per year for 32 years; the grand piano was purchased in 1992; our first plans for a theatre, created by artist Doug Strand, were turned into the Civic Centre; the Courthouse Art Gallery was opened in 2005; we have an Artists' resource library there; and now a Theatre is in the works — all visions of that first Arts Council of 34 years ago!

Now there is also a website and Facebook page — never dreamed of in 1981! — and the Culture Club for live performances by SaySo, a Live Theatre group, and a legacy of workshops & art shows.

And 34 years later, NVCAC memberships are still only $10, and group memberships $25! Please support YOUR community arts council and become a member today by visiting www.nvartscouncil.com & clicking Contacts and Memberships to download a membership form, then drop it off at the Courthouse Art Gallery, Thurs-Sat, 12-6 pm. -JS

My husband says I never listen to him. At least I think that's what he said.

Diapers After a young couple brought their new baby home, the wife suggested that her husband should try his hand at changing diapers. "I'm busy," he said, "I'll do the next one." The next time came around and she asked again. The husband looked puzzled. "Oh! I didn't mean the next diaper. I meant the next baby."

If raising children was going to be easy, it never would have started with something called labour!
