DQ's Swarn & Nina Sekhon retire

Swarn & Nina Sekhon are retiring, after 25 years in the Dairy Queen business in Merritt. They will be holding a DQ Customer Appreciation Day in Merritt for all of the local DQ fans & friends, on Friday Dec. 16. All DQ Soft Serve products will be offered at half price — including DQ cakes & novelties, Blizzards, cones & sundaes.

"This is our way of saying 'Thank You Merritt'. This is where our roots began and we appreciate everything Merritt has done for us. We could not have accomplished what we have if it wasn't for this great community. So to all our DQ fans, please stop by our DQ this Friday, from 11am- 7pm and enjoy a dessert on us — at half price!"

The Sekhons say those 25 years were a long journey, but they will be continuing their journey in Kamloops.

Swarn immigrated from India to the Nicola Valley in 1968 at the age of 5. He went to Diamond Vale School, and continued on at Central and then MSS. His first job was delivering The Province at age 9, and then worked weekends at the local mill at 15. Swarn quickly came to realize this industry was not for him and he moved to the Lower Mainland to complete his high school education.

In 1985, Swarn came back to Merritt and worked at Starlite Photo Lab, then just 6 months later, he bought out the owner and turned it in to a successful and lucrative business. In 1989 he went on to open Superior Pizza & Video on Quilchena Ave., now known as just Superior Pizza. In early 1991, Swarn & Nina saw where Merritt was heading: with fast food up on the hill. At the time, McDonald's, Burger King and Wendy's all had no interest in Merritt. A friend suggested Dairy Queen and as soon as his application went in — head office was calling.

Over the years, the Sekhons have open Dairy Queens in Princeton & Salmon Arm, and have 2 locations in Kamloops. And now with plans of leaving Merritt to join their children (who all live in Kamloops), they are looking at building another DQ there.

"Leaving is going to be very difficult for us. It's been our home for nearly 50 years and we are very grateful for what the community has done for us. We will still continue to visit and give back as much as we can."
— Swarn Sekhon & Family

Stakeout I'm a police officer and occasionally park my cruiser in residential areas to watch for speeders. One Sunday morning I was staked out in a driveway when I saw a large dog trot up to my car. He stopped and sat just out of arm's reach. No matter how much I tried to coax him to come for a pat on the head, he refused to budge. After a while, I decided to move to another location. I pulled out of the driveway, looked back, and learned the reason for the dog's stubbornness. He quickly picked up the newspaper I'd been parked on and dutifully ran back to his master.

Finally Finding Mr. Right A close friend confided in me that she had finally found Mr. Right... Later she confessed she did not realize that she had found Mr. Always Right!

Parachute Jump I volunteered recently to perform a parachute jump for charity. On our first day of training, the instructor made an important point about preparing for landing at 300'. "How do you know when you're at 300'?" asked one woman. "A good question," replied the instructor. "At 300' you can recognize the faces of people on the ground." The woman thought about this for awhile before saying, "What happens if there's no one there I know?"

Both sides now NVCAC

Yowser! No-one can accuse our little community of lacking passion! After Thursday night's fiery AGM of the NV Community Arts Council and lively discussions that ensued, there is no doubt in my mind that everyone involved was acting from a place of passion, truly wanting the best for the Arts Council.

At a subsequent meeting for those who had been "elected" at Thursday's AGM, 5 incumbent members graciously resigned, leaving spaces for 3 people who had been nominated and received significant votes but were not elected due to the inclusion of proxy votes, and because of the members not qualified to vote. Those 3 were appointed, and each has accepted: they are Jane Bartle, Jean Kieglert & Etelka Gillespie.

Members of the Board who met on Monday admitted that misunderstandings happened, but they asked that we go forward with determination to avoid similar mistakes in the future. There is much work to be done to fill the shoes of those who have kept the Arts Council afloat for these last several years, when few stepped up to help. And it is imperative that everyone work together toward a brilliant and positive future for the arts in our community.

Regular meetings will be held on the 3rd Wednesday of the month at the Courthouse Art Gallery, starting January. —JdW
