Coldwater Ave. construction

The Coldwater Avenue Improvement Project — to replace aging infrastructure beneath Coldwater Ave., between Wilson St. and River St. — is now in full swing. During regular construction hours, temporary road closures, alternating traffic patterns and detours will be in effect daily Mon-Sat, 7am-6pm.

Only local residents and emergency service vehicles will have access within the construction zone, all through traffic will be rerouted to Canford Ave. The remaining public is advised to avoid the area whenever possible.

The project is expected to be complete by Thursday, November 30.

Soaring temps mean more demand for power

On Monday, BC Hydro recorded the highest peak hourly demand of the summer at 7297 megawatts (an increase of 444 megawatts over the previous Monday). While BC Hydro has enough capacity available to serve the additional electricity load, the energy required to serve this increase in demand is equivalent to running four Ruskin generating stations at maximum capacity.

Now, they are anticipating peak hourly demand over the next few days to be 7500 - 7800 megawatts, breaking the previous summer record of 7468 megawatts set on Aug. 11, 2014.

Typically, during a heat wave, BC Hydro sees a spike in peak electricity demand as customers turn on fans and air conditioners to stay cool and refrigeration units work harder.

Mexican & US firefighters arrive

Hot and dry weather conditions have kept a persistently high fire danger rating throughout BC. Firefighting crews are on standby in all 6 of BC's fire centres in preparation for an expected increase in fire starts over the next few days due to unsettled weather in the forecast, which may bring lightning.

Additional firefighting resources from the US and Mexico have been engaged to assist. 108 wildfire personnel from Mexico will arrive this week and are expected to be deployed to wildfires in the Interior on Friday. This is the first time Mexican personnel have assisted BC, although they have been employed many times by the Province of Alberta.

This is in addition to 27 firefighters from Minnesota, Wisconsin and Michigan who were brought into BC as part of crews from Ontario that arrived this weekend.

FACT OF THE WEEK

Canada has more lakes than all the other countries combined

When you are dead, you don't know that you are dead. It is difficult only for the others.
It is the same when you are stupid.

Mojave Desert While driving truck I once had to make a delivery to Death Valley, California. When I arrived it was 128 degrees Fahrenheit. After just a few minutes I was so miserable I was afraid I was going to die. After a couple hours, it was still 128 degrees, but I was so miserable that I was afraid I wasn't going to die.
