"Hog fuel spontaneously ignites at MGE project"

(Headline merritttherald.com, December 8, 2017)

Maybe first thing to do is stop calling it 'Green Energy' plant, a marketing hook from the start, right? I've been reserving my judgement on that since the very beginning, and the news that on Friday afternoon Merritt Fire Rescue responded to a fire in the hog fuel stockpile, well that just fuels that fire.

I first heard about Merritt in 1991 on a CBC news report about the "Home Sweet Home" committee protesting a proposal that Tolko bid on a contract to incinerate all the Vancouver Harbour clean-up waste in their beehive burner. And since then, to my eternal amazement, residents have continually had to protest one burner or another coming into the valley, always another threat to the airshed. Oops, I don't mean coming into the valley, I mean coming into the town — next to neighbourhoods, actually.

But we've been assuaged that it's all state-of-the-art, the best equipment in the world. And then there's the economic activity during construction, some hefty building permit revenues, maybe a few jobs if it ever gets started... or finished. But what there will always be from an incinerator is smoke; from a hog fuel pile, risk of fire. Obviously even state-of-the-art equipment doesn't mean zero human error.

Look at the last: the pellet plant — originally built as a stock market scam — eventually produced a sub-standard product (for all it's state-of-the-art equipment), then had a fire that damaged it beyond re-opening. And now before the biomass burner is even operating, it's had its first hog fuel fire.

However, maybe what there will always be in a mill town is a sense that at least it's better than the old days, and it's what we've always done. And maybe it's all we'll really ever be able to do.

Don't Do It My husband was water-skiing when he fell into the river. As the boat circled to pick him up, he noticed a hunter sitting in a duck boat in the reeds. My husband put his hands in the air and joked, "Don't shoot!" The hunter responded, "Don't quack."

Mechanic vs Doctor A heart surgeon came to a mechanic to repair his car. The mechanic had a look at the car's engine, opened a valve and fixed it. The mechanic said, "I repaired the engine which is the heart of the car. You also operate on the hearts of humans, so our jobs are quite similar. So why is it you earn more than me?" The doctor replied, "Can you repair the car when the ignition is on?"

THIS WEEK'S HOROSCOPE

Aries

March 21 - April 19

Difficult emotions stick in our minds and hearts, and it's these that we need to learn to rid ourselves from. Perhaps the time has come to forgive someone for a past wrong.

Taurus

April 20 - May 20

Don't exert pressure through an act of kindness. Nothing wrong with being proactive, but you're better off waiting for a distress call, than wading in without an invitation.

Gemini

May 21 - June 20

How can you change someone's mind? When the right time presents, gently guide them towards your way of thinking. Be the sun, not the wind and your influence will be effective.

Cancer

June 21 - July 22

If you think about an almost forgotten plan, you can revitalize your efforts to bring it to fruition. As your confidence reappears, doubts about your success will fade into a memory.

Leo

July 23 - Aug 22

Your present circumstances present a new reality that you're just coming to terms with. This week offers an experience that will be of immeasurable value.

Virgo

Aug 23 - Sept 22

Finding it hard to disregard your feelings about something? Don't! Just be honest with yourself. Then you can strike a compromise between your heart & your head.

Libra

Sept 23 - Oct 22

Easing off from a disregard situation is what's required. You'll not only see how far you've come, but you can consolidate the ground you've gained. Give yourself a well-deserved break.

Scorpio

Oct. 23 - Nov 21

This week, explore a desire, or embark upon a great adventure. However you choose to use your energy & luck now, you'll get more success than you bargained for!

Sagittarius

Nov 22 - Dec 21

We tend to shrug off any lack of interest, and keep our problems to ourselves. This week, though, if you try again, the chances are that you'll hear the response you need.

Capricorn

Dec 22 - Jan 19

Try getting out and considering ways to make more of your circle of friends and contacts. Many of the usual rules don't apply. So challenge yourself with some unusual activities.

Aquarius

Jan 20 - Feb 18

Success isn't defined by a single encounter, progress is a meandering path. Don't question the wisdom of making the journey. Events this week will prove you're on the right path.

Pisces

Feb 19 - Mar 20

You might not have everything you wish for, but you have wisdom - and that's all you really need. This week, keep your own counsel. The only opinion that really matters is yours.
