New winter highway safety measures

Following an intense winter, the Min. of Transportation & Infrastructure is undertaking several improvements to make BC highways safer during winter months.

This year, the Coquihalla summit had a total snowfall of 830cm — 114 % higher than the 10-year average.

The ministry is moving on a number of measures, including:

- Stricter commercial vehicle chain-up requirements: higher fines for commercial vehicles not carrying chains, or not chaining up when required.

- A pilot program to restrict commercial vehicles from using the far left lane on key three-lane highway sections in the winter, to ensure routes remain open to snow plows, emergency vehicles and passenger vehicles.

- Investing $1.8 million over the next 3 years in additional weather stations and overhead message signs to provide better real-time weather & road condition info.

- Enhanced road-maintenance contractor monitoring and auditing, leveraging new tools and technology, like road weather stations, variable speed limit systems, and GPS tracking of snow plows.

- Extending winter tire and chain regulations on select highways from Oct. 1 to April 30 (instead of March 31).

The ministry will be engaging publicly with the commercial trucking industry, and other stakeholders, in the coming months on the implementation of the new safety measures, with required regulatory changes expected to be in place by next winter.

Wireless emergency alerts go live today

Today, April 6, emergency alerts in BC issued through the national Alert Ready program will also be sent to compatible wireless devices, such as smartphones, to ensure more people have the information they need to act quickly in an emergency.

Wireless alerts will be publicly tested for the first time in BC on May 9, at 1:55 pm, alongside routine television and radio tests. Emergency Management BC (EMBC) is the sole agency responsible for issuing emergency notifications on the Alert Ready system in the province, and will initially issue such alerts for tsunami threats only. The Province is considering expanding the use of Alert Ready beyond tsunamis to include other hazards and emergencies in the future.

Wireless alerts will contain instructions for a safe response, and all British Columbians are urged to abide by these instructions without delay. In order to receive alerts, mobile phones must be connected to a cellular network, be alert-compatible and within the alert area. They will be broadcast automatically at no cost to the user. Wireless-compatibility information is available at: www.alertready.ca

Free emergency dental services for Oral Health Month

As April is Oral Health Month, Dr. Saini would like to offer free emergency dental services for 1 day on Wednesday, April 18th, for patients who are in pain and experiencing financial hardship. You may be a new patient or already registered at our clinic. All appointments must be pre-booked, by calling 378-6677, limited appointments available.

Latin & Ballroom dance classes Total beginners. Thursdays: 10-11am, starting Thursday April 19. Salsa, Cha Cha, Waltz and more. No partners. $65 for 5 lessons. Find a fitter you through dance. Register & FMI 378-9898 or dance@telus.net.

Where will the boomerang land... Oh, wait. It's coming back to me.

CNA Job fair

Citw Nlaka'pamux Assembly (CNA) will hold their 3rd annual job fair today, April 6, 1-6pm at the Civic Centre. If you're looking for more info on skills training, education or employment opportunities in the Nicola Valley, stop by! In attendance, companies such as Kinder Morgan, BC Wildfire Service, Stoyoma Dental and Highland Valley Copper; and educational institutes such as Okanagan College, TRU and NVIT.

Dress for a job interview and bring your resumes!

Espresso Etc. now open for dinner

With new owners Ken & Nikki's enthusiasm for the full potential of their new enterprise, Espresso Etc. is now open for dinner Tues-Sun (open 7am-9pm). Monday hours are 7am-5pm.

They've rounded up an interesting dinner menu, lots of very different items not available in this town, and also vegetarian & vegan options.

Their lunch fare is also re-vamped... they've kept many of French's favourites, but added their own new favourites — one of which is a delicious chili. Definitely worth a visit: at lunch or dinner!
