Heatwave means high power demand

On Monday, BC Hydro recorded the highest peak hourly demand – the hour customers use the most electricity – of the season. At nearly 7,300 megawatts, this represents more than a 10% increase over the previous Monday.

BC Hydro is forecasting its peak load to be between 7,000 & 7,500 megawatts over the next few days, with customers turning on fans & air conditioners, and refrigeration units working harder to stay cool.

Last August, BC Hydro set a new record for summer power consumption when the province's peak hourly demand reached approx. 7,500 megawatts.

Will getting enough sleep Help me lose weight?

Yes!!! Experts agree that getting enough sleep is just as important as diet and exercise. Within our body we have hormones that impact our level of hunger and fullness. One of the functions of a hormone ghrelin is to increase hunger, food intake and fat storage. Whereas one of the functions of the hormone leptin is to suppress hunger. Many studies conclude that when we are short on sleep we have reduced leptin and elevated ghrelin hormone levels which leads to increased appetite. So let's work with our body to achieve our health and fitness goals and follow the recommendation from the National Sleep Foundation to get 7-9 hours of sleep each night. — Katrina Bennett, Registered Kinesiologist

Thoughts from Outside the Box The New World Indians

Evidence of Indians visiting America is presented by scholars such as Roman Mena, Alexander von Humboldt, Ambassador Poindexter, Gordon Ekholm, and Chaman Lal They all discovered heavy similarities between Mayan customs, traditions, language, architecture, and beliefs and those of the Vedic people of India. Perhaps, Christopher Columbus actually encountered a few people, who descended from India, in America, and this is why he labelled all Native Americans Indian. To suggest Columbus named the people of America "Indian" because he thought he was in India might not be correct. Since India was a developed country, for her day, and the entire world was familiar with India, and Christopher was an educated man, it's difficult to accept that Columbus, when he encountered a less developed land mass, thought it was a developed nation.

Today, India is a less developed country, and only two hundred years ago, she was a contemporary of European nations—specifically, historical Punjab. Travelling much further back, ancient India was one of the most advanced and wealthiest nations on the planet, post-deluge. For this reason, every other nation tried to invade and loot India.

Arguably, without ancient India, it's very possible the world might not be as far ahead. The ancient Indians are credited with introducing such things as mathematical principles, astronomy, physics, advanced metallurgy, and complex civil engineering. [To be continued]

Is Marx's tomb a communist plot?

I called work this morning and whispered, "Sorry boss, I can't come in today. I have a wee cough." He exclaimed, "You have a wee cough!?" I said, "Really?! Thanks boss, see you next week!"
