Update: NWT
woman's death

On Sunday July 22, the remains of 27-year-old Brittany Martel were located near Mine Creek Rd & Hwy 5.
Police issued a statement yesterday that her death is not deemed suspicious and no criminality is suspected.
The Merritt RCMP would like to thank the members of the public who called in to assist with sightings of the woman in the days before her passing and assisting in the recovery of some of her personal belongings. The investigation will now be handed over to the BC Coroners Service, with assistance from the RCMP when and if required.
No other info is available from the Coroners Service or RCMP at this time.

Community Active outdoor play

The WeCare Crew and Smart Step program in Merritt are trying to promote healthy lifestyles and active outdoor play. They are creating utility boxes filled with sporting goods equipment that will be placed in various locations around town. The idea is for the equipment to be used freely by all members in the community, with the hopes people will get active and spark interactive play. They are asking for support from the people of Merritt by donating their no-longer-being-used and/or unwanted sporting equipment to fill the boxes. If anyone has equipment to donate they can contact Olivia Schmid 936-8314, snp1@shaw.ca

Thoughts from Outside the Box
The New World vikings

A trip by the Icelandic Vikings to this country is a certainty, and in 1960, the remains of Norse structures were unearthed in Newfoundland. The name of the archeological site is “L’Anse aux Meadows”.
Norse artifacts discovered at “L’Anse aux Meadows” date back to approximately 1000 AD, give or take a few decades. Researchers are suggesting that the Vikings stayed in this area for approximately three to ten years before the settlement was abandoned.
Researchers discovered “L’Anse aux Meadows” after studying the Icelandic Sagas. The word “Saga” is Icelandic for “a narrative” and the Icelandic Sagas are supposedly based on historical events from the 9th, 10th, and 11th centuries. Supposedly, if the Sagas are correct, a few more settlements still remain undiscovered.
In the late 1800s, Harvard Professor Eben Norton helped create several monuments, along the Charles River, in Boston, to mark the significant locations of what he believed was a past Norse settlement. —Mike Bhangu, Amazon best-selling author

Mr. and Mrs. Brown had two sons. One was named Mind Your Own Business & the other was named Trouble. One day the two boys decided to play hide and seek. Trouble hid while Mind Your Own Business counted to one hundred. Mind Your Own Business began looking for his brother behind garbage cans and bushes. Then he started looking in and under cars until a police man approached him and asked, “What are you doing?” “Playing a game,” the boy replied. “What is your name?” the officer questioned. “Mind Your Own Business.” Furious the policeman inquired, “Are you looking for trouble?!” The boy replied, “Why, yes.”
