New bus service

Just wanted to let you know that we are planning on providing service to Langley 3 times a week: Mon, Wed and Fri for those who need to travel to the Lower Mainland.

We will be posting our fares on our website as soon as we are authorized and we will also be letting people know ahead of time where and when to purchase tickets. We are also going to be taking over some of Greyhound's routes that they have abandoned, these will also be posted on our website.

Sincerely, Gene Field & David Brule
Merritt Shuttle Bus Services Ltd family

Juliet Creek-Murray
Lake evacuation order rescinded

Finally, property owners evacuated from Murray Lake were allowed to return last evening. The order was issued August 11 when the fire, which started Aug. 8, grew to threaten the properties.

Since then, the Juliet Crk wildfire has grown to an estimated at 2432 hectares, and is still classified as 'out of control' though established control lines are being held.

Thoughts from Outside the Box Underground cities

There are numerous stories from all over the world describing the existence of underground cities, complexes, and tunnels. The two most famous hidden underground cities are Agharta and Shambhala, with the supposed entrance to the first at the South Pole. Nazi Germany supposedly spent enormous amounts of money looking for the two, and it's suggested that they actually found Agharta. There, live tall, blonde, and blue-eyed people.

Elaborate underground cities, complexes, and tunnel systems are not all that strange. The ancient cultures from all over the world share one story or another detailing such things. For example, the Hopi and the Apache Indians believe that their ancestors once lived underground, and only after a great calamity did they resurface. In his book, Weird America, Jim Brandon shares the legend of the city underneath California's Death Valley called "Shin-Au-Av". The story originates from the Paiute Indians, and supposedly, in this mysterious underground complex once lived an unknown race of people. The Sioux Indians also share an underground city story, in which one of their people, White Horse, accidentally found an underground dwelling occupied by strange humans. These underground humans gave White Horse a mystical talisman capable of melting rocks.

In the second chapter of the Vendidad, a division of the Zoroastrian holy book, Avesta, God warned the Persian King, Yima, the son of Vivanghat, of an upcoming natural disaster. God further instructed him to build underground cities and take shelter. Derinkuyu, the massive underground city discovered in Turkey, which can house as many as twenty-thousand people and the required livestock, is said to be one of the underground cities Yima built. —Mike Bhangu, Amazon best-selling author

Books About Paranoia A woman walked into a library and wondered whether they had any books about paranoia. The librarian replied, "They're right behind you."

In a vacuum My family was playing a trivia board game one night. When it was my brother-in-law's turn, he rolled the dice and landed on "Science & Nature." His question was, "If you are in a vacuum and someone calls your name, can you hear it?" He thought for a moment and then asked, "Is it on or off?"
