River

Forecast Ctre

Snow survey and water supply

February was very cold through the entire province as a stable arctic airmass remained in place for most of the month. Many places recorded the coldest or second coldest average temperature for February. Temperature anomalies in the southern interior were -6 to -9°C below normal.

Most of this year's snowpack built up rapidly over a 5 to 6-week period from early-Dec to early-Jan. Weather through February shifted into the dominance of Arctic air across the province, with extremely cold temperatures and limited snow accumulation.

In the Nicola region, the snowpack is 81% of normal. With the average of all snow measurements across the province calculated to be 89% of normal.

The River Forecast Centre says that at this stage in the season, there is no elevated flood risk present in the current snowpack across the province. Seasonal volume runoff forecast for Nicola Lake is less than 85% of normal, though weather during the freshet season also plays a key role.

The next updated seasonal flood risk forecast is scheduled for release on April 8.

Thoughts from outside the box

Intermission: Prayer

I admire the power of the pen, for it is greater than the sword. However, there is a force greater than both merged into one. Without twirling my words too much, I present "prayer" as the supreme power.

Prayer is powerful but what prayer to speak when times are bleak and the knees are weak? What religion to turn to and what book to read?

After travelling deep down the rabbit hole, the religion and the book have little consequence. The state of mind a prayer invokes is important.

All true prayers are designed to assist the mind's eye move toward The Light within a person and The Supreme Light that pervades all. Yet, to recite a prayer without understanding the words and without focusing the consciousness toward the reality the sounds were designed to reveal, a prayer is potentially barren.

The most powerful prayers were written by individuals who merged with The Supreme Light. If these prayers are properly recited and repeated, in their original language, specific vibrations will result and these frequencies will summon subtle mystical experiences. This is so because the creator of the prayer understood the science of spirituality and organized specific words together to create specific vibrations.

Two branches of science still in their infancy but understood by the mystics, are the sciences of the magnetic field & vibrations. A true prayer combines specific sounds together to compose celestial sentences and to produce a precise vibration. This pulsation will strengthen a person's magnetic field. A strong magnetic field will naturally light the mind during the dark moments and provide the power to stand firm. —M. Bhangu

I used to eat a lot of natural foods until I learned that most people die of natural causes.

The easiest way to find something lost around the house is to buy a replacement.

How Do You Like Your Steak Waiter: How do you like your steak, sir? Sir: Like winning an argument with my wife. Waiter: Rare it is.
