Drastic water use reduction by the City & complete sprinklering/car washing ban

The Coldwater river has the driest water basin in BC, and to minimize environmental impacts, the Province has been working closely with the City to determine additional avenues to reduce water consumption.

The following steps have now been implemented to reduce water use:

- As of 1pm yesterday, the Rotary Spray Park was turned off
- the City has ceased irrigation in all parks & the cemetery, including flower beds
- it has also ceased street sweeping and washing roadways
- as well it has ceased washing all company vehicles
- and they've transferred the lead well pumps to pull residential drinking water from the Nicola aquifer as opposed to the Coldwater aquifer

Effective Monday, August 26th, no residential lawn watering or car washing is permitted in the City of Merritt, neither automatic irrigation, controlled sprinklers, nor by hand. No exceptions will be issued for lawn watering or car washing.

Vegetable gardens may still be watered once per week using automatic irrigation or controlled sprinklers (Tuesday for odd numbered addresses & Friday for even numbered addresses). Additionally, vegetables and flowers may be watered by hand as required, so long as a controlled flow nozzle is used.

Bylaw services will no longer warn residents — those in breach of the water policy will be fined.

The Prov. explains: Groundwater pumping from shallow wells can reduce the amount of groundwater that flows to the Coldwater River. Shallow groundwater in aquifers and surface water are generally interconnected in the Coldwater, and drawing down water in wells may cause water levels in neighbouring streams to drop as well, potentially impacting ecosystems and other water users.

Information from Provincial Observation Well No. 296 at Merritt is showing a lower than normal groundwater level for this time of year.

TMX re-starts

Trans Mountain has issued 'Notice to Proceed' directives to some of its prime construction contractors triggering mobilization of the initial workforce necessary to build the Trans Mountain Expansion Project. The directives give the contractors 30 days to mobilize equipment and commence the process of hiring workers, procuring goods and services, and developing detailed construction work plans.

Construction work will soon begin in Edmonton & Burnaby. Start dates in the remaining construction areas are subject to final regulatory approvals & permits.

Trans Mountain remains committed to prioritizing and maximizing Indigenous, local and regional hiring to the greatest extent possible. Hiring by prime contractors is underway, with approximately 4,200 workers expected to be employed in various communities along the corridor in the fourth quarter of 2019.
