Province extends state of emergency

Earlier this week, the BC government formally extended the provincial state of emergency to support the provincewide response to the COVID-19 pandemic, through the end of the day on April 14.

"The next 14 days are critically important in our province's unprecedented fight against COVID-19. What we do today will affect what our doctors, nurses and first responders face in the days and weeks ahead," said Premier John Horgan. "Today, we're asking all British Columbians to re-commit to doing their part. There are early signs that our actions are making a difference, and we can't stop now."

The Province has created 1 888 COVID-19 to connect British Columbians needing non-medical information about COVID-19. This includes the latest information on travel recommendations and physical distancing, as well as access to support and resources from the provincial and federal governments. The call line is available seven days a week, 7:30am-8pm, in 110 languages. People with questions related to their health and COVID-19 should call 811.

Ebus suspends BC services indefinitely

The charter bus company that serves routes across the province — including the Southern Interior — has suspended its services in BC.

On its website, Ebus says BC services will be temporarily suspended as of April 5 until further notice.

Relief on hydro bills

On Wednesday, the Province announced that BC Hydro will offer new, targeted bill relief to provide immediate help to those most in need.

- Residential customers who have lost their jobs or are unable to work as a result of COVID-19 will receive a credit to help cover the cost of their electricity bills. The credit will be three times their average monthly bill over the past year at their home and does not have to be repaid.

- Small businesses that have been forced to close due to COVID-19 will have their power bills forgiven for three months. BC Hydro is waiving bills for these customers from April to June 2020.

- Major industries, like pulp and paper mills and mines, will have the opportunity to defer 50% of their bill payments for three months.

While these programs are targeted for the above customer categories, so that help gets first to those who need it most, any individuals or businesses having difficulty paying their electricity bill are encouraged to call BC Hydro's customer service team at 1 800 BCHYDRO (1 800 224-9376) to discuss options to defer payments or arrange a flexible payment plan.

BC Hydro will implement the changes to its systems and websites for customers to access the new relief programs. Customers will have until June 30, 2020, to apply for relief.

BC Hydro has also halted all service disconnections for non-payment during COVID-19 and cancelled all non-emergency planned power outages.

Must be some kind of milestone.

The Wreckers Song

Alt-folk musician Ingrid Boys posted an original song about getting home safely, on YouTube last week — The Wreckers Song. Sounds like she's had help from some of her Strange Companions friends, and the song is accompanied by a 'collage' video, obviously another of Ingrid's extensive artistic endeavours. Check it out: search The Wreckers Song by KingsDottir on YouTube.

TNRD supports Fall Fair/Rodeo

At the Thompson-Nicola Regional District Board of Directors' Meeting of March 26, the Board approved $130,000 from the Federal Gas Tax — Community Works Fund revenue for the Nicola Valley Fall Fair and Nicola Valley Rodeo grounds in Merritt.

The contribution will be provided from the following Federal Gas Tax allocations: •Electoral Area "M" (Beautiful Nicola Valley — North) - $65,000; and • Electoral Area "N" (Beautiful Nicola Valley — South) - $65,000.

Letter to the editor Social distancing

Like everyone else I'm learning to navigate this whole new world. Special thanks to all the stores and business that have put in such an effort to ensure our compliance with six (6) feet between us no matter where we are. I managed to bump my head on the first plastic divider that protect staff. I have no problems with the lines keeping us 6 feet apart in stores but I always seem to be walking against the directional arrows up and down the rows. My brain has its own map to direct me.

Also thank you to Public Works for continuing to provide essential services.

I saw that truckers are having a hard time finding restaurants that are open and much needed washrooms. I haven't been up to the truck stop but we won't have any food or supplies if they stop delivering.

One of the advantages to living in Merritt and the Nicola Valley it's that we can walk the trails while social distancing.

Remember wipes of any kind belong in the garbage unless you want a visit from the plumber.

On a brighter note the crocus and snowdrops are blooming. The deer are back pruning the tulips.

Satellite images show a decrease in air pollution worldwide. Something good should come out of this.

Thinking of all the Doctors, Nurses and other care and emergency staff - BE SAFE!

Rediscovering the Truth THOUGHTS FROM OUTSIDE THE BOX

"The body isn't what I live for. The body is only a mud brick temple. As all will agree, the body is built to crumble. Yet, the soul is more and the soul is immortal. The soul is why I live and the soul is why I endure."

How to protect yourself

We encourage you to follow the same procedures as what is recommended during cold and flu season:

- Stay home if you get sick and limit contact with others to keep from infecting them.
- Wash hands regularly with soap and water. This is the single most effective way of reducing infection spread.
- Avoid touching your eyes, nose or mouth. Germs spread that way.
- Cover your mouth and nose with a sleeve/tissue and turn your head away from others when coughing or sneezing.
- Use tissues to contain secretions and dispose of them promptly in a waste container.
- Keep common surface areas like doorknobs, light switches and keyboards, clean and disinfected.

COVID-19 Symptoms & other questions

The symptoms of COVID-19 are similar to other respiratory illnesses, including the flu and common cold. They include fever, cough, shortness of breath or difficulty breathing. Other milder symptoms may include: runny nose, fatigue, body aches (muscles and joints aching), diarrhea, headache, sore throat, vomiting and red eyes.

Do I need to be tested if I have symptoms? The BC COVID-19 Self-Assessment Tool is available for anyone that develops and can be used to help determine if you need further assessment or testing for COVID-19. Go to: <https://bc.thrive.health/>

Can you become sick from someone before they show symptoms? There have been a few instances of transmissions before the person became sick or the symptoms were so mild that the person did not know they were sick. However, most people became ill from being in close contact with someone who showed symptoms such as coughing and sneezing, therefore transmitting the virus through droplets.

Keep your sanity and perhaps even enjoy your time in relative isolation.

- Maintain a routine: We all feel better, and function better, when we follow a routine. End your workday at the same time as usual and try to go to bed at your usual time as well.
- Exercise: Exercise is a treatment for depression and anxiety. It doesn't take much exercise to help your brain stay mentally fit: 30 minutes of mild- to moderate-intensity exercise five days a week is enough.
- Go outside: So long as you can keep your social distance (at least 1m, although 2m is ideal), get outside to walk or bike, an effective way to aid stress reduction.
- Schedule fun time in your day: Make sure you do something you enjoy every single day. It will help your brain to really relax and reset.
- Learn how to be more mindful: Mindfulness is a life skill and can be learned.
- If in doubt, check it out: Be very careful where you get your health information regarding COVID-19. Go to reputable sources, such as the Public Health Agency of Canada, your provincial medical officer or the World Health Organization.
