Seeking info about Canada Day crash

RCMP are looking for witnesses to the Canada Day crash of a high-performance sports car outside on Wednesday on Larson Hill just before 4pm, involving a green 2015 McLaren 650S.

Investigators believe the sports car was northbound when the driver lost control, hit the back of a semi truck, spun out and rolled several times into the centre median.

The driver, a Central Okanagan man in his 40s, sustained what are believed to be non-life-threatening injuries. Police were told that the driver experienced hydroplaning conditions prior to the crash.

"RCMP would like to speak with anyone who witnessed the crash, or may have stopped at the scene and had an interaction with the driver", said Cpl. Jesse O'Donaghey, spokesperson for the RCMP Southeast District.

"Efforts remain underway to identify the commercial vehicle involved in the crash, as investigators ask that driver to come forward with their information."

Anyone with info is asked to contact the RCMP at 250-378-4262.

First Nations' TMX challenge dismissed

Yesterday, the Supreme Court of Canada announced it will not allow the appeal from the Squamish Nation, Tsleil-Waututh Nation and Coldwater Indian Band looking to challenge the federal government's second approval of the Trans Mountain pipeline expansion project.

This brings to an end the years-long legal challenge. However Coldwater Chief Lee Spahan said it is not the end of their fight to protect their aquifer. The Band has maintained that there has been inadequate consultation on the pipeline's route through their reserve — it is to pass directly through their aquifer's only recharging area.

New City website

Earlier this week, the City of Merritt announced that their new website was switched over, at the same web address: www.merritt.ca.

They say that over the next month, they will be distributing a "variety of educational tools to assist the community with the new website and access information not previously available."

One additional feature is at the top of the page, quick clicks to the other City websites: Fire Rescue, Tourism, and the in-progress Claybanks RV Park

Nicola Naturalist Soc. virtual outings During this COVID-restricted period, the club has cancelled evening meetings and field outings, but NNS members have contributed photos to create virtual spring outings. These are excellent photos of local wildlife and wildflowers and celebrate the amazing diversity in the Nicola Valley. Go to www.nicolanaturalists.ca/

If I were a farmer, I would measure my height from my head... ..tomatoes.

"Am I mentioned in the will?" asked the nephew nervously. "You sure are!" replied the lawyer. "It says right here, To my niece Susan I bequeath one hundred and fifty thousand dollars, to my cousin Alice seventy five thousand dollars and to my nephew Paul..." "...who was always asking if he was mentioned in the will...Hi Paul!"
