‘North Bench’ online survey now active

The City of Merritt is undertaking the initial phase of a Neighbourhood Development Plan for the North Bench area, 4 undeveloped parcels of land directly above Mountain Dr., totalling more than 375 acres of Provincial Crown land. The City is currently in the process of obtaining a Crown land tenure.

They’re looking for input vis-a-vis where new development will go; what services are needed; what types of land uses will be developed; where green space, parks and trails should go; and how people will move around.

You can find the survey at www.merritt.ca under the tab “Living in Merritt” then under “Projects in progress” — I know, quite buried, but if you have something to contribute...

In addition to the survey, there will be other opportunities to provide input: Official Community Plan (OCP) launch event set for early October; and OCP Bench Sector Engagement set for late October.

Excerpt At the Bridge

(James) Teit...had long been drawn to the “science” of culture but in ways that were more politician than psychological, more experiential than theoretical or comparative. Through Antko (Teit’s Nlakapamux wife) and her relatives on the local Cooks Ferry reserves, he had witnessed from the inside a vibrant culture suffering under the trauma of population loss while it continue to endure the totalizing colonial oppression of racism, inequality, marginalization, and dispossession. His determination to understand the roots of this oppression had already set him on his own anthropological path. Unlike Boas (Franz Boas, German-born American anthropologist and pioneer of modern anthropology) who pursued anthropology as the struggle of an educated elite against the forces of racism, fascism, and international conflict, Teit pursued it as the collective struggle of disenfranchised local peoples against imperial elites.

This was the foundation of which Boas and Teit established a working relationship. The arrangement gave Boas the ethnographic data he needed to advance his academic theories of cultural difference, and it gave Teit the public platform and financial support he needed to assist his Nlaka’pamux friends in their fight against settler colonialism...

Over time, their differences would take them in opposite directions. For Boas, anthropology was an academic pursuit aimed at rescuing data on Indian languages, mythology, arts, and culture before they disappeared. With assimilation his remedy for the survivors, Boas saw little allure in designing an anthropology rooted in the present day. As a fully functioning participant in Nlaka’pamux life, with a spouse from the community, Teit could not entertain such a perspective: nor was it in his nature. On arriving in Spences Bridge in 1884, he was soon drawn to the contemporary issues that plagued the local Indians.

— Wendy Wickwire, At The Bridge, pp 97, 98

Walkie-Talkie, Over Her: “Why do we need walkie-talkies? Our relationship is over.”
Me: “Our relationship is what? Over.”

Smart Student... Teacher: “What is the difference between ‘Tea’ and ‘Tee’?”
Student: “The first one is a drink and the second is an incorrect spelling.”

THIS WEEK’S HOROSCOPE

Aries
March 21 - April 19

While you think you're protecting yourself from risks, in fact you're closing yourself off from real opportunities. You'll be delighted to see where a more positive approach leads.

Taurus
April 20 - May 20

Every so often, someone you dislike offers an opinion you share. This week, useful guidance comes from a source you may previously have disregarded. Be open-minded.

Gemini
May 21 - June 20

‘Power of Positive Thinking’s Norman Peale, wrote ‘Shoot for the moon. Even if you miss, you’ll land among the stars’. As the Full Moon approaches a romantic boost is on its way.

Cancer
June 21 - July 22

For relationships to develop, stating the obvious must go. Watch out for a situation where you could be the unhelpful critic. Keep it to yourself; it’s time to deepen a relationship.

Leo
July 23 - Aug 22

Something you’re involved in requires everyone to play their part. The time you gain allows you to make the most of an unplanned romantic opportunity unrelated to the original task.

Virgo
Aug 23 - Sept 22

Use your legendary tact, attention to detail and diplomatic skills. It’s the only way to work! Some deft action from you will benefit all concerned. Winners all round.

Libra
Sept 23 - Oct 22

This week, give a tricky situation a little more time. The misconception will reveal itself with no harm done; and your patience will earn you an unexpected reward.

Scorpio
Oct 23 - Nov 21

Someone needs you to go an extra mile on a project. And you don’t need to exert yourself to achieve the goal. Yet making a big effort will impress and bring success.

Sagittarius
Nov 22 - Dec 21

Confirm that there are no loose ends to be tied. There’s so much to be getting on with - and there are emotional good things ahead. Once you’re ready, don’t hesitate to move on.

Capricorn
Dec 22 - Jan 19

The beauty of nature can provide the uplift in emotion that you need. Make time to get out and about. Mid-week, You’ll find a natural answer to what’s on your mind.

Aquarius
Jan 20 - Feb 18

Be careful what you wish for. It’s a good idea to reduce stress by tidying up your affairs, but the Full Moon in your sign indicates that a message from the past brings inspiration.

Pisces
Feb 19 - Mar 20

This week, a recharge is needed; perhaps even a jumpstart. And to achieve that? Human contact. Stay safe, but you need to reach out.
