When to get a COVID-19 test:
Updated guidelines

IH WIDE – As COVID-19 activity increases across B.C., guidance for when to get a COVID-19 test has been updated.

A COVID-19 test is not recommended if:

- You have no symptoms, even if you are a close contact of someone who has tested positive.
- You are fully vaccinated (two doses), experiencing mild symptoms and can manage your illness at home. Self-isolate for seven days. Notify your close contacts so they can self-monitor for symptoms.

A COVID-19 test is recommended if:

- You are experiencing one or more of the following symptoms: fever or chills; cough; loss of sense of smell or taste; or difficulty breathing.
- You have experienced one or more of the following symptoms for longer than 24 hours with no improvement: sore throat; loss of appetite; headache or body aches; extreme fatigue; nausea or vomiting; diarrhea.

If you feel unwell and are unsure about your symptoms, contact your health care provider or call 8-1-1.

Rapid COVID-19 tests will be available at Interior Health Community Collection Centres (testing centres), including NV Hospital & Health Centre. Where available, rapid tests may be provided to individuals experiencing symptoms of COVID-19 and according to risk factors.

For the latest public health orders and public guidance, visit: <https://www2.gov.bc.ca/gov/content/covid-19/info/restrictions>

For a list of all Interior Health COVID-19 immunization clinics and other resources visit:

Coq reopens to regular traffic, drive now 45 min. longer

Today, the Coquihalla Highway will reopen to regular vehicle traffic between Hope and Merritt.

This will be a much more convenient route for people who need to travel between the Lower Mainland and the Interior, and is another significant milestone in the province's recovery from the devastating storms.

Temporary repairs to the Coquihalla are in place while the ministry plans permanent repairs to the damaged sections. This means travel-pattern changes and reduced speed limits, with the trip between Hope and Merritt taking about 45 minutes longer than normal. This is a high-mountain route that can experience adverse weather and rapidly changing conditions that could require closure with minimal notice.

Electric-vehicle (EV) charging stations at Britton Creek are still out of operation. The nearest EV charging stations are in Hope and Merritt. There will continue to be increased enforcement on this route to ensure drivers are obeying the traffic laws and driving according to conditions.

Hwy 99 open to commercial drivers with winter driving experience

Also, weight restrictions will be lifted from Highway 99 between Pemberton and Lillooet. However, drivers of large commercial vehicles are discouraged from using this route because of the challenging terrain. It is recommended that only experienced winter drivers travel this route. There is an increased avalanche risk through this corridor, so drivers should be prepared for delays and before travelling should check: drivebc.ca

Hwy 1 reopens with 2 hr delays

In the Fraser Canyon, Highway 1 has partially reopened from Kanaka Bar south of Lytton to Spences Bridge. Drivers can expect delays on this section of Highway 1.

Highway 1 between Kanaka Bar and Hope remains closed. Record snowfalls and recent avalanche risks had delayed work around Jackass Mountain. However, crews are back on site and it is expected the highway will reopen to all vehicle traffic before the end of January.

When Highway 1 in the Fraser Canyon reopens, drivers can expect lengthy delays with additional travel times as long as two hours or longer, depending on the destination. Delays are a result of ongoing repairs, an at-grade train crossing, avalanche control and sections of single-lane alternating traffic, which includes a temporary single-lane bridge at the Jackass Mountain and Nicomen River crossing.

The highway will be open to legal width and weight loading, but loads will be limited to 25 metres in length until the rehabilitation of the highway bridge at Nicomen River is completed.

Drivers are reminded that B.C.'s winter-tire and chain-up regulations are in effect. Other safety tips for winter driving include travelling with a full tank of gas, food and water, and warm clothes.

Branch Manager I had to take a whole load of tree limbs to the dump today in my trailer. I came to realize that when I prayed for a job as a branch manager, I needed to be a little more specific.

A Strange Text My wife just sent me a strange text message. "There's a man on the bus next to me who keeps farting." I replied, "That's okay. At least he isn't on your bus."

Doctor Appointment I told the doctor's receptionist I need an appointment. "How about 10 tomorrow?" she asked. "I don't need that many," I replied.

Don't argue with an idiot... People watching may not be able to tell the difference.

HVC strike update

United Steelworkers 7619 and Teck have not come to an agreement, but did agree on Sunday to have the mediators provide recommendations, which will then go to members for a vote.

The recommended settlement will go to members of the bargaining unit and executive committee. Should members vote it down, a strike could still occur.

NVIT opens more ECE student spaces

People looking to build careers in child care will have more educational opportunities with the addition of 147 early childhood educator (ECE) seats at 8 public post-secondary institutions throughout the province.

NVIT will add 54 additional ECE student spaces as part of the Province's $1.32 million investment to expand ECE seats under the 10-year Childcare BC plan, adding to the 1,003 student training spaces funded since 2018. The new ECE seats include full- and part-time studies and online learning, as well as speciality programs in Indigenous community-based delivery, infant and toddler, and special needs. The programs are delivered in person and online to improve access for students living in remote and rural areas of BC.

To date, the Province has invested more than $68 million in wage enhancements for ECEs. The $4/hr wage enhancement will raise the median wage to about $25/hr for ECEs in BC.
