Karielynn Heppner

June 24, 1985 - December 30, 2022

With regret, we announce the passing of Karielynn Heppner, age 37, on Friday, December 30, 2022.

Karielynn was born in Salmon Arm and later moved to Merritt, BC.

Gone but not forgotten.

Merritt will apply for flood protection from $1-billion federal disaster program

Ottawa is making $1 billion in funding available to municipalities, First Nations and provinces and territories for projects to increase climate resiliency and protect against future natural disasters.

Announced Monday, the third round of applications to the Disaster Mitigation and Adaptation Fund (DMAF) will remain open until mid-July.

At the front of the line is likely to be the City of Merritt in the B.C. Interior.

The community was devastated by flooding in the fall of 2021, and within half a year had a $165-million plan ready to apply for funding. But the city found out applications were closed and had to wait.

Mayor Mike Goetz noted that it has been 14 months since the flooding hit his community and resulted in an evacuation order for all 7,100 residents.

"The one thing that steamed my cookies a little was we had nowhere to send our application. And there was no light at the end of the tunnel," said Goetz.

But he welcomed the opening of applications again and said the city would be sending in its plan.

Merritt's plan includes strengthening and moving some dikes back to create a larger flood channel for the Coldwater River, which will require purchasing homes that will be removed. The plan also includes the Nicola River.

$90-million new BC Manufacturing Jobs Fund

Yesterday, Premier David Eby announced that the StrongerBC Economic Plan will deliver support for people in rural BC through a new forestry sector fund that will diversify local economies, promote value-added innovation, and create thousands of good-paying jobs.

The Government of BC will invest as much as $90 million over 3 years through the new BC Manufacturing Jobs Fund. The fund will support high-value industrial and manufacturing projects to drive clean and inclusive growth in rural, remote and Indigenous communities.

The new fund will have 2 streams of funding: the project readiness stream, and the capital investment stream. Examples of eligible projects include: adopting innovative processes to manufacture value-added forestry products from biomass or other alternatives; expanding industrial facilities; machine upgrades; improvements to fabrication processes; construction of new facilities; business planning or technical assessments to prepare for capital investment; and renovating ageing industrial buildings, such as unused mills to serve new purposes.

A program guide and proposal form will be available by Feb. 28. fmi.gov.bc.ca/ManufacturingJobsFund

How did the telephone propose to his girlfriend? He gave her a ring.

New Best Friend. Mark was passing by the bar on the way home from work when he sees his good friend Tom gulping down one shot after another. Fearing the worst, Mark charged into the bar and confronted Tom. "Tom what's going on?" Mark asked. "It's my wife Beckie," Tom replied. "She ran off with my best friend!" "Hey wait a second!" said Mark. "Aren't I your best friend?" "Not any more," Tom said with a happy smile. "He is!"

My friend Jim told me that when he asked his wife where she wanted to go on vacation, she said that being married to him was a vacation. When I commented that was a nice thing to say to him, Jim replied, "Well, actually, what she said was I was the 'last resort.'"

The NV Arts Council's new community art exhibit planned for early February to mid March is all about the art of Still Life — in paintings & drawings but beyond, too: sculpted, stained glass, mixed media, fabric, photographs, nature and home objects set up as still life... They are looking for fresh work, or that has not been shown in the region within the past 2 years. Guest curator for this show is Barbara Sayles, collection is Jan 30.
