City looking for new dog shelter services

The City of Merritt is seeking Expressions of Interest to provide Dog Shelter Services. Historically, dogs that have been brought in by City Bylaw or RCMP have been sheltered temporarily at the City's Public Works yard. These days, they are held for a few days, before being transported to Princeton.

With planned flood recovery infrastructure improvements, including a dike, the City is looking at demolishing the current shelter and is exploring options for a new service and /or location to provide temporary shelter for dogs.

The City welcomes private organizations, non-profits, and societies to replace the current shelter within the vicinity of the City of Merritt. Must be able to accommodate max. 4-6 dogs at any one time, though normal volume is 1 dog per month. The Request for Expressions of Interest is available at www.merritt.ca/dogshelter

Closing date February 24, 5pm.

February is Black History Month

"Black people have been an integral part of British Columbia for more than 150 years and their contributions have helped shape this province. For example, Emma Stark became the first Black school teacher on Vancouver Island when she was hired to teach in a one-room school in Nanaimo in 1874. Burnaby's Barbara Howard was the first Black woman to represent Canada in an international competition, participating in track and field in the 1938 British Empire Games in Australia. Seraphim Joseph Fortes is heralded as Vancouver's Citizen of the Century for saving at least 29 people from drowning and teaching three generations of children to swim while working as a lifeguard in English Bay during the early 1900s.

"It's stories like these that inspire us to learn more about the history of our province and inspire all of us to challenge the status quo and work together to build a more just and equitable society.

"At the same time, we can't ignore the unjust barriers that Black people continue to face in their daily lives. The Province is working to build a more inclusive province for everyone by identifying systemic racism through the Anti-Racism Data Act. We're also committed to developing an anti-Black racism strategy in partnership with Black communities in recognition of the United Nations International Decade for People of African Descent.

"Please join us in commemorating this month by learning more about the history of Black British Columbians and the many contributions they have made and continue to make. By learning more about the communities that shape our province, we can build a better future for everyone.

*"Premier David Eby;
Mable Elmore, Parliamentary Secretary
for Anti-Racism Initiatives; and Rachna
Singh, Minister of Education & Child Care*

I sympathize with batteries. I'm not included in anything either.

What's the difference between Black Eyed Peas and Chick Peas? Black Eyed Peas can sing us a song. Chick Peas can hummus one.

Boss told me that as a security guard, it's my job to watch the office. I'm on season 6, but I'm not sure what it's got to do with security.

A politician, an artist, and a statistician are out hunting. The politician shoots at a deer and misses 5 feet to the left. The artist takes a shot and misses 5 feet to the right. The statistician yells, "We got 'em!"
