Bass Coast's 11th festival in the Nicola Valley This year, 2 giants of the Detroit house and techno genre will perform right here in Merritt: Delano Smith & DJ Sting-ray 313. It's going to be hot! ...and not just the weather forecast — mid-30s for the foreseeable future. It's a Coldwater River-lounging kind of weekend...

Blue Sky Ranch home destroyed by fire

Tuesday afternoon, the owners of Blue Sky Ranch, located 11km south of town on Midday Valley Road, got the call from their friend that their house was on fire, after she saw smoke.

The Merritt Fire Dept. attended, and were aided by nearby pipeline workers who delivered 2 industrial-sized water trucks. And BC Wildfire Service sent a crew, about 40 personnel on the ground all together to help contain & extinguish the fire. Luckily, the house was sheathed with metal siding, which helped to contain the fire, and stop it from spreading to the nearby forest.

Animals & outbuildings are fine, but the owners will now start the long process of rebuilding their home.

Water system update

After allowing the electrical system to dry for 48 hours, the electrical engineer conducted testing yesterday, which revealed that some electrical components failed. While the pumps are now functional, the electrical system for water treatment is not yet working. Crews are working on sourcing materials and establishing timelines to complete the repair. The 2 Voght Park wells will not be put back into service until the water treatment system is functional.

But the City was able to put the recently-repaired Colletville Pump Station into service and increase output levels of all the three remaining waterpumps, to compensate for the supply deficit.

With the conservation efforts by residents, they have been able to fill the reservoirs and maintain full supply levels during this time of disruption. It is expected that the City will be able to maintain normal service in the short term. In the event of an emergency, they are now able to deal with any urgent water supply issues, such as extinguishing a fire.

The Spray Park at Rotary Park will be back in service today, and we can return to level 3 watering restrictions.
