Claybanks erosion project now delayed by a year

The $9.4 million project to implement erosion protection on Claybanks — and the properties along Fir Ave — has been delayed this week, for completion in December 2025 instead of Dec 2024 due to permitting delays.

The project includes works to mitigate erosion and flooding risks along the Coldwater River, approx. 200m downstream from the Middlesboro bridge. It will address erosion and bank stability caused by the November 2021 ARE (atmospheric river event).

Just downstream of the site, the river previously meandered along the right bank dike, and during the ARE flood the meander filled with sediment, causing a channel avulsion to cut through the me-

At the site, the thalweg ("the line defining the lowest points along the length of a river bed, whether underwater or not") was pushed to the base of the steep clay cliffs, which increased the risk of bank destabilization.

Bank failure would damage the homes of residents along Fir Ave. It would also create channel avulsion and sediment deposits which would reduce channel capacity. And any fine grained material that is deposited would negatively impact fish habitat & vegetation.

City of Merritt, Ministry of Environment and Climate Change Strategy, and Associated Engineering are partners in the project.

At the Paramount in Kamloops The Sweet Hereafter

The Kamloops Film Society will screen the 1997 film by award-winning Canadian director Atom Egoyan, The Sweet Hereafter, in 4k restoration. The film was shot in Merritt, the Nicola Valley & Spences Bridge; and won 2 Academy Award nominations & 3 awards at the 1997 Cannes Film Festival.

It stars Ian Holm, Sarah Polley, Tom McCamus, Gabrielle Rose, Alberta Watson, Caerthan Banks.

"A small mountain community in Canada is devastated when a school bus accident leaves more than a dozen of its children dead. A big-city lawyer arrives to help the survivors' and victims' families prepare a class-action suit, but his efforts only seem to push the townspeople further apart. At the same time, one teenage survivor of the accident has to reckon with the loss of innocence brought about by a different kind of damage." Based on a 1991 novel by American author Russell

cítx^w open house (formerly the Courthouse)

Citxw Nlaka'pamux Assembly invites you to join them for their citx^w ("house") open house on Nov 27th, 1-6pm at the former Courthouse 1940 Nicola Ave.

The event is for the general public to come see the transformation of this landmark heritage building, as it transitions into a new community hub for the 8 member Bands which CNA serves. Refreshments will be provided.
