Thanks you

Nicola Valley Heritage Society would like to extend our heartfelt thanks to McDonald's, Save-On-Foods, and No Frills for their generous donations, which made Baillie House's Time Capsule Community Day a memorable success. Your support helped bring the community together in a truly meaningful way. We also want to express our deepest gratitude to all the board members, Girl Guides, wool spinners and volunteers who gave their time and energy to make this event possible. ## HVC mine expansion granted Environmental assessment certificate

A B.C. environmental assessment certificate has been issued to Teck Highland Valley Copper Partnership for the Highland Valley Copper Mine Life Extension project, following a joint decision by provincial ministers Tamara Davidson, Minister of Environment and Parks, and Jagrup Brar, Minister of Mining and Critical Minerals. The project marks the first combined assessment, permitting process under the new act.

The HVC project will extend the life of operating the mine from 2028 to 2043. The mine expansion is predicted to produce approx. 900 million additional tonnes of ore and nearly 2 million additional tonnes of copper.

The ministers noted in their decision that HVC will provide economic benefits to the province, the local community and First Nations. The mine expansion will increase local employment by adding 200 more permanent jobs, along with 500 to 1,250 jobs during construction. The mine currently employs 1,320 people. Without the expansion, the mine would end production in 2028 and wind down its operations.

The project assessment involved extensive consultation with technical experts, First Nations, provincial agencies, local governments and the public. In making their decision, the ministers acknowledged that while the HVC project itself would not have significant adverse impacts beyond those of the existing mine, in operation since the 1960s, the expansion would exacerbate the combined impacts from this and other projects in the region on water quantity and First Nations' access to land and cultural practices.

As a result, the ministers have included 17 legally binding conditions in the environmental assessment certificate, intended to prevent or reduce potential adverse environmental, economic, social, cultural and health effects from HVC, and mitigate impacts to First Nations.

Baron of beef at the Coldwater is back!

The much-loved baron of beef buffet is back at the Coldwater Pub on Fridays & Saturdays, noon-2pm. This was already a long-standing tradition when I first came to the Nicola Valley in the late 1980s... and one of the most delicious spreads around. And happily, it stuck as a tradition with every subsequent owner — until having to close with Covid. Now it's back — and well worth trying it out, whether for that hit of nostalgia, or for your very first time.

I have so much debt... I can start a government.

Home Donations. A tired homemaker opened the front door of her home to find a young minister from the neighborhood who said, "I'm collecting donations for the new children's home we're building. I hope you'll give what you can." "To be sure," said the beleaguered woman, "I'll give you two boys, two girls, or one of each."

Kirby Flegel is a Cree artist raised in Saskatchewan and now living in Vancouver, B.C. He spent his childhood in the Nicola Valley. His youthful experience canoeing through the Canadian boreal forest, observing the landscape, plants, and wildlife helped form the foundation of his art. He continues to be inspired by the animals and birds native to his new home on Vancouver Island. Kirby is a largely self-taught but accomplished artist. He works with graphite, charcoal or Cerin d'Alcine colored pencils, on Stonehenge paper. His portraits of eagles, bears, wolves, owls, orcas, otters, and various other animals of the coastal rainforest can be found in collections in Saskatchewan, Manitoba, Ontario, California, England, The Netherlands, France, and Brazil. Kirby says he focuses primarily on the faces of the animals he draws because "It is through the face and eyes that we discover the soul of the animal - just as it is through my art you know me."
